Our Expertise Extends Well Beyond Cranes

There is no limit when it comes to the location of a wind project. Our team conducts wind maintenance and installation all over the United States and most recently, we took our expertise to Honduras. The Mountain Wind Team was asked to help with the coordination, planning and engineering solutions for a thermal event on a wind farm in South America. Although our partner utilized their own cranes, our technical experience and skilled engineering team emerged successfully.

PROBLEMS? MOUNTAIN HAS THE SOLUTION

Thermal events?
Extreme terrain?
Have liberated blades?
In need of major
correction?
Need a blade transported in unique and challenging circumstances?

Our team has proven time and again that we can provide solutions to even the most challenging situations.

Mountain was pleased to take part in building the stage for the Garth Brooks Concert in Salt Lake City.

Safety Strong

Recognizing Gaige Crabree

Even with all safety measures in place, dangerous situations can arise every day on the job site. Recently, a rescue was required on a job site just as our operator was folding up his crane. When first responders were unable to reach an injured worker, our operator was approached for assistance. Gaige and his crew acted quickly to set up the crane in an area where he could assist in the rescue. Kudos to our operator for being cool under pressure and going through a hazard analysis before beginning the rescue. The individual was lifted safely and transported by the medical team.

The core of Mountain is a top notch crew who is committed to SAFETY and executing every job with professionalism and precision. We are proud to be Mountain strong.
