Ambulatory Care Center

Earlier this month, Mountain Crane Service completed a project that involved installing a sky bridge that will connect Salt Lake's Primary Children's Hospital to the University of Utah's new ACC Center. The Ambulatory Care Center will be a state-of-the-art clinic facility for same-day procedures and administration for Primary Children's Medical Center and the University of Utah Hospitals and Clinics. This bridge installation was an exciting and critical step for this ACC project's construction process.

As seen in the picture to the left, several patients and other observers "camped out" and watched the installation of the bridge. For a special treat to all of the construction workers involved, the patients at primary children's hospital sang "Bridge Over Troubled Water" as the bridge was installed. There were also live DJ's, popcorn, drinks, and all sorts of treats to celebrate this late-night event. The construction of the bridge began Friday night and was completed by Saturday night.

Mountain Crane is proud of its crane operators and crew for how quickly and efficiently they were able to set the bridge in the limited time frame. KSL 5 News filmed the entire operation so click on the following link to see the bridge go up in fast motion at : <http://www.ksl.com/?nid=1070&sid=25429971>

Big-D Children's Fair

Earlier this month, Big-D Construction hosted a children's safety fair where family and friends of Big-D employees and the general public were able to come enjoy outdoor activities, food, and fun as well as learn about safety in the construction business.

Mountain Crane supplied a Grove TMS800E 80 Ton Hydraulic Truck Crane for display at the fair. Children were able to climb inside the operator's cab and ask questions about these big machines to two of Mountain Crane's skilled operators Jens Helquist and Parker Chapman.

We want to thank Big-D for the invitation and for the opportunity to promote crane & construction safety.

Employee Spotlight

Nathalie Davis is the newest addition to Mountain Crane's team as our summer intern. She was looking for a great company to work with and grow with while she is going through school. Her favorite thing about Mountain Crane so far is how close everyone is and the laid back environment.
