THE MEANING OF CRANE MATTING

Any successful crane pick starts with a good foundation. Crane mats distribute the pressure applied to the ground when a crane makes heavy lifts. Many crane accidents involve poor ground conditions so it's imperative to have good material, good compaction, and appropriate matting to distribute the load. Mountain owns a variety of timber and steel mats. Questions? Ask a member of our team for more information!

Another Great Build-Up With our Tower Team

Tower cranes are a little different from the mobile cranes we typically highlight from our fleet. They are semi-permanent cranes where the bases are bolted to a concrete foundation and re torqued as necessary. The horizontal jib is attached to a vertical tower and the trolley travels along the jib, providing a flexible work radius. The jib can rotate 360 degrees around the mast (this motion is called slewing). These cranes are assembled by a mobile crane, such as our 500 ton all terrain. Mountain Crane has a skilled assembly crew comprised of experienced ironworkers and operating engineers. We also have veteran operators who assist our customers with the operation of their tower cranes.

The core of Mountain is a top notch crew who is committed to SAFETY and executing every job with professionalism and precision. We are proud to be Mountain strong.
